

---

These conferences “have truly become a ‘can’t miss’ event for scientists working on MLIV. They have led to fruitful collaborations, joint grant applications, and a better recognition of research priorities that will truly impact MLIV patients and families.

Dr. Susan Slaughaupt,
Scientific Director, MGH
Research Institute

---

Mucopolysaccharidosis Type IV Research and Family Conference

Atlanta, GA / June 19-21, 2016

Since 2013, the ML4 Foundation has sponsored an international conference on MLIV, covering basic, clinical, and translational research. We are proud to include junior investigators, and we are excited to host MLIV families and patients at this conference.

Presentations at this meeting will focus on:

- Protein function and disease pathogenesis,
- Channel function and protein interaction,
- Ocular disease and treatments,
- Gene and molecular therapies,
- Natural history and clinical data,
- Inflammatory disease in the brain,
- Novel therapeutic strategies, and more.

We invite you to join us. For more information about the conference see, <http://ml4.org/ml4-research-conference/>

For all inquiries, contact Dr. Rebecca Oberman, Executive Director, ML4 Foundation, roberman@ml4.org.